To Whom It May Concern,

We have just become aware that your organization is moving forward in the process of removing labeling from irradiated foods. This would make it impossible for consumers to know whether they are buying irradiated food or not.

We are clearly against any irradiation of foods and that it is reprehensible to remove that information from the public. This would make it impossible for people to make an informed decision on what they and their families consume.

Sincerely,

Mr. Jean L. Mauregard
Mrs. Linda Mauregard
